Small Business Administration: Hearing Before the Committee on Small Business, United States Senate, One Hundred Third Congress, First Session on President s Nomination of Cassandra M. Pulley, Tuesday, October 19, 1993 U.S. Senate, Committee on Small Business, Washington, DC. The Committee met, pursuant to notice, at 10:36 a.m., in room SR-428A, Russell Senate Office Building, Hon. Dale Bumpers, Chairman of the Committee presiding. Opening Statement of Hon. Dale Bumpers, a U.S. Senator from the State of Arkansas The Chairman. Today s hearing focuses on President Clinton s nomination of Cassandra Pulley of the District of Columbia to be Deputy Administrator of the Small Business Administration. We welcome Ms. Pulley and, in a moment, I will recognize her to ask her to present any of her family who may be present. Having visited with Ms. Pulley briefly, and reviewed her credentials in response to the Committee s questionnaire, it seems to me that President Clinton has made an excellent choice for small business and for the Small Business Administration. She has a very distinguished record in banking and finance, which complements that of Administrator Bowles, and which outshines any deputy administrator in recent memory. The Deputy Administrator post is especially crucial for several reasons. First, it is not humanly possible for the Administrator to personally supervise every policy and personnel decision within the Small Business Administration and, at the same time, sit at the President s elbow on all important economic issues. And that is what President Clinton seems to want from this Administrator. And we are...
