Hunter House. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 320 pages. Everything is energy and everything is connected to everything else. This is the premise of TULAHE (The Universe Loves a Happy Ending), a book that makes innovative connections between (quantum) science and universal spiritual laws to give readers new tools for working with life energy and a revolutionary paradigm for healing nature, themselves and organizations. A biologist by training, Andeweg started working in 1990 at the Institute for Resonance-therapy (IRT) in Germany, helping to develop an energy-based method for revitalizing nature reserves and small organizations. The sophisticated method of energetic healing developed there is explained in depth in Andewegs previous book, In Resonance with Nature, and is called ECOtherapy. In 2001, Andeweg and his wife and coleague, Rijke Bols, co-founded the Centre for ECOtherapy, now based in Marl, Germany. Based on the viewpoint that nature has a soul and that we can communicate with it, ECOtherapy helps to restore and maintain a harmonious balance of vital energies underlying health and vitality. The author believes ECOtherapy can be effectively applied anywhere where the balance between living organisms and their environment has been disturbed, maintaining that the conscious involvement of the caretakers, their inner intuitive development in working with nature, and their connection with the higher spiritual world is essential for the ecosystems long-term vitality. Eco stems from the Greek word oikos, meaning house or home. In ECOtherapy work, Eco suggests home in the broadest sense of the word our living environment, work environment, community. Earth is, in the end, everyones home, and the concept of guardianship married with the tools of energetic healing empowers the individual to take an active role in caring for the planet. The core of ECOtherapy is a method of healing ecosystems from a distance using the principles...
