Institute of Hygiene of the University of Pennsylvania was formally opened April 22A, 1892. This magnificent gift of Henry Charles Lea was accompanied by the following message, which was read by Dr. S. Weir Mitchell at the presentation of the Institute to the Trustees: my Dear Dr. Mitchell: It gives me pleasure to respond to your request for a few words on the objects and motives which led to the founding of the new Laboratory of Hygiene. Of all the claims of your noble profession on the gratitude of mankind, perhaps the chiefest is due to the zeal of its members in laboring as earnestly for the prevention as for the cure of disease. Scientific hygiene is essentially the creation of physicians who have ever been foremost in discovering and promulgating the facts and principles on which improvement of public health must be based. Great...
