Public Law 106-303 significant experience with the use of its procedures. Therefore, GAO has no recommendations for changes to section 3 at this time. To address a variety of complex issues, GAO needed to increase its skill Section 4: Senior-base in such highly competitive hiring areas as economics, information Level Positions technology, actuarial science, and evaluation methodology. Section 4 of the act permits GAO to establish senior-level positions to meet critical scientific, technical, or professional needs. To recruit and retain qualified individuals, the act allows GAO to extend the rights and benefits of Senior Executive Service employees to these positions. GAO Order 2319. 1, containing the agencys regulations for the employment of senior-level staff, was issued in March 2001 and is included in appendix III. GAO has used this authority to fill eight senior-level positions, including that of a Chief Accountant, Chief Economist, Chief Statistician, and Chief Actuary. In addition, three senior-level technologists have been appointed as well as a senior-level technologist with expertise in cryptography. The expertise of these senior experts in highly specialized areas of economics, technology, statistics, and cryptography has contributed significantly to GAOs efforts to support the Congress. The accomplishments achieved with the expertise and contributions of the agencys senior-level employees include work on biometric technologies for U. S. border security, anthrax irradiation of U. S. mail, and National Missile Defense systems. These experts have also contributed to ensuring that GAOs work is based on the most technically accurate methodologies for conducting cost-benefit studies and for utilizing appropriate data sources. GAO has found this flexibility to...
